

Global Fixed Income Portfolio

Investment Objective

The Global Fixed Income Fund aims to provide a reliable stream of income and robust capital preservation by investing in a diversified portfolio of fixed income instruments across various regions and sectors. Its objective is to deliver steady, predictable returns while mitigating risks associated with interest rate fluctuations, credit quality variations, and currency volatility. The fund actively manages its portfolio through a combination of duration adjustments, credit analysis, and strategic currency hedging. By investing in a mix of sovereign bonds, high-quality corporate debt, and select emerging market instruments, the fund is positioned to benefit from global yield opportunities while maintaining a defensive posture during periods of market stress. This approach is reinforced by Chartis Asset Management's meticulous research process and commitment to prudent risk management, ensuring that the portfolio remains resilient in diverse economic scenarios.

Portfolio Manager Comments

Global inflation continued moderating during February, with Eurozone inflation declining to 1.7% year-on-year, its lowest level since 2024. The Federal Reserve kept policy rates unchanged while signaling that inflation remained above its long-term target despite resilient economic conditions. Global bond markets remained relatively stable as investors awaited further clarity regarding the trajectory of monetary policy easing. The portfolio maintained diversified global fixed income exposure while focusing on capital preservation and income generation.
